Congress To Quit For Month's Rest Starting Saturday

On Own Volition—Presi-

Congressmen Get A Chance
To Sound Out Sentiment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Without consulting President Roosevelt, and acting solely on their own initiative, congressional leaders today have agreed to give the House and Senate a 30-day vacation, starting Saturday.

Legislation Strike
In agreeing to the recess, the leadership virtually ordered Congress on a "legislative strike," as a score of important administration measures are in the House or Senate, awaiting passage. The list is topped by the $3,200,000,000 tax bill, the administration's price control bill, the omnibus river-harbor bill with its St. Lawrence waterway project, and the proposal to use selectees outside the western hemisphere.

Action on these measures will be delayed until late September at the best.

Before going on vacation, Congress will complete enactment of the bill extending the service of draftees, national guardsmen and reservists to full 30 months, the property seizure act and the $6,428,000,000 rearmament appropriation bill.

It will be the first real vacation taken by Congress since the summer of 1939. Both House and Senate met continuously throughout 1940 and continuously—except for an occasional three-day recess—since the beginning of 1941.

The vacation may prove a "break" for the President, even though he wasn't consulted. In recent weeks observers have noted a growing tendency, especially in the House, to revolt on administration measures. The climax was reached Monday night when the draft-extension bill was passed by the margin of a single vote—the closest recorded ballot taken in the House in many a year.

At any rate—whether it favors

Dollars Are Larger In New Castle Friday

New Castle's "Dollar Day" shopping bazaar, quick to make strategic moves, will advance into New Castle stores on Friday—for it will be "Dollar Day," as we said, and for the wise and thrifty that's saying plenty!

The consumer army will find waiting in 48 co-operating stores merchandise—merchandise needed now—at prices which are certain to rise within coming months as the government defense program develops.

Out-Of-Towners Expected
The city itself, its police and all, was ready to aid the mass of visiting customers expected from the surrounding towns. Traffic will be heavier, as it always is on Dollar Day, but everything has been anticipated.

It looks like the weatherman will furnish a cool and comfortable shopping day. Regardless of the weather, the crowds will come.

Sponsored by the Retail Merchants' association, the periodical Dollar Day has become one of the major sales attractions of the New Castle stores. Planning for tomorrow's sale began weeks ago.

Jap Troops Mass On Thai Border

(International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 14.—Japanese troops have penetrated into Cambodia, French Indo-China province adjoining Thailand on the south-east and 600 miles north of Singapore, according to information received by the British government today.

Advices did not say to what extent the penetration amounted, or how heavily Japanese troops were being massed on the Thailand border.

Election of janitors for the 1941-42 term, a scheduled "business" for the board last night, took place as usual after a resolution went through adding the $10-per-month figure to the originally set pay.

Three Injured As Truck Lights On Passing Freight

Truck Goes Out Of Control On
Kittanning Hill And Plops
On Passing Freight

(International News Service)
KITTANNING, Pa., Aug. 14.—Three men were injured, two seriously, today when a truck rolled out of control down a hill here and landed on top of a passing freight train.

James Branzato, 21, and Thomas Ritchey, 66, both of Barnesboro, were taken to Kittanning hospital in serious condition. Ritchey's son, William, 16, was not detained, but was given treatment.

One of the men was thrown out of the truck when it failed to make a sharp curve on the new Benjamin Franklin highway near the intersection of Route 66. The other two had to be pulled from the cab after the truck landed on the freight.

Roy McMaisters, an employee in a nearby diner, saw the crash and signalled the Pennsylvania railroad freight to a stop about 300 yards from the scene.

Japanese Will Ignore Protests

American And British Protests
Will Not Halt Japan's Policies

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Aug. 14.—American and British protests cannot halt Japan's policies, a government statement said today, repeating the charge that the democracies are attempting to "encircle" Nippon.

Tichi Kishi, representative of the Japanese government information board, said in a nationwide broadcast that Anglo-American protests against the Japanese movement into French Indo-China "will make absolutely no difference."

"We shall proceed on the policies already decided upon," Kishi said. "The democracies, he alleged, are making a 'panic-stricken attempt' at military, economic, and diplomatic envelopment of Japan."

LIST EIGHT PRINCIPLES DESIGNED TO GUARANTEE DEMOCRACY'S NEW ORDER

Dramatic Meeting Of President And Prime Minister At Sea Evolves Eight Point Plan
Of Peace For World—United States And Britain Seek No Territorial Gains—Guarantee Access Of All Nations To World's Raw Materials—Freedom Of Seas Without Hindrance—Improved Labor Standards—Disarmament Of Nations—All Contingent Upon Final Destruction Of Nazi Tyranny.

By KINGSBURY SMITH

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Disclosing that they had held an historic conference on the high seas, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill today announced an eight-point program of peace aims, embracing "final destruction of Nazism," the right of oppressed nations to choose their own form of government, a guaranteed freedom of the seas, and disavowment by both the United States and Britain of any territorial conquest.

The dramatic meeting, presumably held during the past several days, also resulted in discussions for additional U. S. aid to Britain and Soviet Russia, with high British officials scheduled to return to Washington with Mr. Roosevelt later this week for further conferences on this aspect.

The sweeping peace aims formulated by the heads of the two governments were viewed as a statement of democracy's proposed "new order" and a reply to any new Hitler peace offensive that might be in the offing.

White House Announces

Official disclosure that the conference had been held was made in Washington by the White House, a similar announcement being released simultaneously in London on behalf of Churchill.

The White House said that the president and the British premier were accompanied by officials of their two governments, including high ranking officers of their military, naval and air services. British Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook also joined in the conferences and is proceeding to Washington.

In a joint declaration, the president and the prime minister said they deemed it right to make known "certain common principles in the national policies of their respective countries on which they base their hopes for a better future for the world."

These principles were listed by the declaration as follows:

1. The United States and Britain "seek no aggrandizement, territorial or other."

2. "They desire to see no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed wishes of the peoples concerned."

3. "They respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live; and they wish to see sovereign rights and self government restored to those who have been forcibly deprived of them."

4. "They will endeavor with due respect for their existing obligations, to further the enjoyment by all faiths, great or small, victor or vanquished, of access on equal terms to the trade and to the raw materials of the world which are needed for their economic prosperity."

5. "They desire to bring about fullest collaboration between all nations, for improved labor standards, economic advancement and social security."

6. "After final destruction of the Nazi tyranny, they hope to see established a peace which will afford to all nations the means of dwelling in safety and afford assurance that

Germans Claim Soviet Defenses Are Weakening

Odessa Ringed But Not Cap-

Bug River

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—Under strong pressure from German troops between the Dniester and Dnieper rivers, Soviet defenses in the western Ukraine are "about to collapse," the Nazi high command announced today.

Although military authorities in Berlin said that bad weather and counter-attacks are handicapping the German offensives, the communiqué added:

"Odessa is encircled by Rumanian troops, while German, Italian and Hungarian forces have surrounded Nikolaev from west to east."

"West of the Bug river, strong enemy forces are facing annihilation."

Military commentators said that German troops were advancing east of the lower Bug river on a broad front in the vicinity of Krivejrog where Russia's most important iron ore deposits and mines are located.

Achievement of this point places German operations within reach of the lower Dnieper, it was said.

Strive To Avert Aluminum Strike

Await Government Intervention
To Avert Walkout
Of 20,000

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—Government intervention was awaited today to avert a threatened strike of 20,000 men in the five plants of the vital Aluminum Company of America.

N. A. Zontrich, president of the Aluminum Workers of America C. I. O., notified Secretary of Labor Frances D. Perkins that wage differential negotiations with company had collapsed, and that the government must act soon if a strike is to be prevented.

The negotiations have been going on for the past several weeks, with the union demanding elimination of an average 18-cents-an-hour wage differential that exists between the three southern plants of the company and the two southern plants located at Alcoa, Tenn., and Badin, N. C.

It's only a gesture as yet, but the peace dove is fluttering wings, the concerto of peace is just started I guess, but at least they are touching the strings. It may be a shot in the dark, it may come to nothing—all right—at least here's a step towards the mountains of hope, there's some peace talk as well as a fight. And it may be the thing that will end this dispute and save further bloodshed and say, that's a glorious hope which we want to come true, it's bright seventy seven today.

PA NEW OBSERVES

On North Crawford avenue Wednesday afternoon it could be seen that some long stemmed pansy blooms were showing their "monkey faces" through some long grass, on a lawn mound. It seems that fashions change in flower growing, as it does in hats and clothes, with folks. Some years ago, it was quite common to see mounds or beds on lawns and in window boxes, with beautiful pansies growing, of all sizes and hues, but this does not seem to be the case this year. Petunias have been largely grown this season, and they make a pretty and cheerful showing, and can endure lots of dry weather.

Cost Of Living Mounts Steadily

Food Costs Are Pace-Setters
With 8.7 Per Cent In Three Month Period

FURTHER INCREASES
ARE TO BE EXPECTED

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—The cost of living has been rising steadily in recent months, a department of labor and industry price survey of six representative cities disclosed today.

Food costs set the pace with an 8.7 per cent increase in the three month period ended June 15, while living costs generally mounted 3.9 per cent over the corresponding quarter a year ago, the department reported.

The advance of retail prices was uniform in the cities included in the survey, Scranton, Johnstown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Lancaster and Conneville.

"The increase that occurred for this three-month period was larger than any change for a similar period in the last 80 years and even greater than that which took place in the period just prior to the outbreak of war in Europe," the department related.

Further increases Expected
Further increases in the cost of living are to be expected since wholesale prices increased 16 per cent within the past two years, according to U. S. bureau of labor statistics commodity index.

Food costs in June were 12 per cent higher than they were in the corresponding month of 1939 and house-renting costs were five per cent greater than two years ago. Food prices advanced more than 9

Bad Weather Slows Nazis In Ukraine

Counter Attacks Also Aid Russia

Hitler Said To Be Directing Nazi Onslaught Personally

BERLIN BULLETINS CLAIM AIR VICTORIES

By PIERRE J. HUSS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—Bad weather and Russian counter-attacks are handicapping German offensives on the Ukraine and other Soviet fronts, Nazi military authorities conceded today, but they insisted that the German war machine continues to roll onward in spite of all obstacles.

Under Chancellor Hitler's personal eye, the Nazi army was said to be plowing forward relentlessly along roads have been blasted by the Russians and turned into bogs by heavy rain.

Smoke Over Kiev
As Hitler looked on, the smoke of destruction billowed above Kiev and Odessa when the great south Russian cities were subjected to heavy artillery fire.

The communists issued by the German high command merely confirmed that Nazi troops had recaptured the Black sea between Odessa and the Bug river estuary.

"Operations on other fronts are proceeding according to plan," the statement added.

The German air fleets meanwhile kept up attacks on Black sea shipping in a campaign said to cut off possible Russian evacuation by sea. Military officials said the Luftwaffe sank six and badly damaged 17 Soviet merchantmen in Black sea ports up to yesterday.

A communiqué added that the Luftwaffe yesterday dealt heavy blows to transport vessels held in readiness for the routed Soviet troops on the coastal area between Odessa and Nikolayev.

"The Luftwaffe destroyed two transport ships totalling 14,000 tons and seriously damaged five additional large vessels."

Pursue Troops
The bulletin said that "in the Ukraine German and Rumanian troops in unremitting pursuit reached the Black sea coast between Odessa and the Bug river estuary. On remaining sectors of the fronts operations are developing according to plan."

Some of the strongest of the red counter-attacks were concentrated on the northern fronts, according to German military authorities in Berlin, but they said all were repulsed.

German troops were credited with destroying 18 Soviet tanks on the central front, taking "thousands" more prisoners and setting rammours on motor trucks ablaze. On the northern front they reportedly destroyed 16 32-ton tanks and one armored train.

At Odessa, Kiev and on the Smolensk and Leningrad fronts in the north, the Germans admitted the powerful Soviet counter-attacks were being made repeatedly, but the Germans said that the Russian blows were beaten off.

The heads of all the 48 stores participating in the sale agreed with him, and announced they too, expect "the biggest Dollar Day in many years."

Mrs. Cramer was also named as the league's delegate to the A. F. of L. convention to be held in Seattle, Wash.

Preceding this morning's election, M. Blumberg, representative of the United Garmen Workers of America, spoke to the group about his activities in promoting union labeled merchandise.

The demand for union labeled garments is higher than ever before," Mr. Blumberg told his audience, "and that is directly due to the efforts of the members of organizations like the Women's International Label League."

Symbol of Style
The speaker continued to say that union labels have come to be a symbol of style and quality in garments, and that the factor is the reason that union manufacturers have been able to survive "the competition of other manufacturers who do not have to pay union wages to their employees."

More than 100 delegates and members of the Label League and members of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly attended the convention banquet, held last night at The Castleton.

Rev. F. William F. Galvin of St. Mary's church gave the invocation, and, following the banquet, A. G. Skundor, grand lodge representative of the International Association of Machinists, served as master of ceremonies.

State Senator J. K. McQuiddy, as principal speaker of the evening, stressed the "essential necessity, wherever you live, to place the union label upon your politicians" and to elect only union men to office.

After calling upon Arnold Bischof, manager of The Castleton, Mr. Skundor gave a brief history of local 456 of the Label League, in introducing Mrs. Elizabeth Dray of Cleveland, O., who was responsible for organization of the local league 18 years ago when she was active in the Youngstown local.

Other Speakers
Messages were also given by Ralph Audino, president of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly; Norman D. Freeborne, secretary of the New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly and representative of the Motion Picture Operators Union; Mrs. Effie Wise, Tulsa, Okla., international secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Elener Skundor, international third vice-president, financial secretary of local 456, and convention chairman; Mrs. Ida Freeman of Sioux City, Ia., fourth vice-president of international; Mrs. Eva Winstel of Port Arthur, Texas, fifth vice-president of international, who held office for 26 years; Frank Doyle, member of GNCA and vice-president of New Castle Trades and Labor Assembly; Mrs. Mary Patterson, president of local 456, and Miss Joan Thompson, representative of The News.

Mr. Skundor introduced the officers of local 456, crediting to them the success of this 23rd biennial convention. The program was concluded with a stage show, presented by Miss Rosemary Place and associates.

The President or not—Congress will get a first-hand opportunity to learn what the people back home are saying and feeling. ## SCHOOL BOARD UPS JANITOR SALARIES schedules of the men. The boost is effective September 1, when the janitors pay year starts.

The election brought no change whatever in the custodial force, for the directors approved the present roster of men as submitted by S. Garvin Ligo, superintendent of buildings, grounds and equipment.

Heading the janitors' group heard by the board was John Mitchell, custodian at the Arthur McGill school. He was its spokesman.

His request was brief—he cited the rising cost of living and said "the janitors certainly would appreciate consideration." Urged by some board members to suggest some raise figure, he declined because, he said, "I don't think that's up to us." However, the board men kept up the urging and Mitchell said "since you've asked me, I'd say something like $10 a month."

The committee then withdrew and the board, after discussing in general the economic trends in the nation and their possible effect on school buying, salaries and everything else, unanimously granted the raise.

The increase will add about $4,800 to the 1941-42 budget, it was estimated.

Janitors named for the new term were:

by the executive board, which includes the governor and five members of his cabinet.

Seniority of store workers involved and the volume of business done by the individual stores, rather than dollar receipts, are expected to be the principal factors in the reclassification.

The new plan proposed the establishment of the position of assistant managers in the stores—a classification provided for under the liquor control act, but not recognized by the board up to now. The reclassification would result in the promotion of some clerks to assistant managerships at increased wages.

It is believed that the governor will act on the recommendation on his return from vacation.

St. Rocco Feast To Be Observed

In accordance with a custom established several years ago, employees of Elliott Brothers Steel company will observe the feast of St. Rocco on Saturday, John Peluso announced today.

NAME MCCLELLAND DEFENSE CAPTAIN

Captain McClelland was a sergeant in the 10th Field Artillery, 28th Division and was cited for bravery under fire in the St. Mihiel sector.

First Lieutenant J. W. Spellman has had many years service with the Pennsylvania National Guard and Second Lieutenant Theodore Smith left the United States Army two years ago after six years service.

The command of Company B was turned over to Captain McClelland Wednesday night in the Joseph V. Cunningham armory by Major Weber.

At the same time the command was turned over, the new equipment was turned over. This consists of 40 Enfield rifles, twelve 12-gauge, sawed off shot guns equipped with bayonets and a number of 38 calibre pistols which have recently been received. In the near future uniforms for the company and "tommy guns" and gas guns will be received.

Battalion Headquarters
As he accepted his majority, Major Weber announced that New Castle has been designated as Battalion headquarters. Other companies in the battalion are Company A at Erie, and Company C at Indiana.

The Battalion Adjutant is First Lieutenant Clare B. Book of New Castle and the battalion sergeant major, County Controller Frank W. Hill. A. H. Klingensmith, a clerk in the county controller's office has been named as company clerk.

At the present time Company B is recruited to full strength, 64 men, with 35 upon the waiting list. Since its organization it has taken its

GASOLINE BAN RESULTS

REPORTS at Washington indicate that the 7 p. m. to 7 a. m. gasoline curfew in the East has been a "partial" success. This must mean that consumption has been reduced. Up to the time that restrictions went into effect the reverse was the case.

Using figures supplied by fifteen principal oil companies, Petroleum Coordinator Ickes disclosed that a 1,129,866-gallon increase in weekly gas consumption was the public's answer to "insistent and repeated" appeals for a voluntary one-third cut. But that was consumption for the week ended August 1, before the curfew went into effect.

The exact gallonage Mr. Ickes would save was not announced. Most specific indication of his desires is set forth in an automobile windshield sticker that reads: "I'm using one-third less gasoline." On the back is a pledge to do so, which those who exhibit it are supposed to sign—thus making it more binding, presumably. The sticker is part of an advertising program by which the big petroleum companies hope to reduce consumption on the Eastern seaboard. But a mere sticker, or even a pledge, will not result in real savings unless the individual consumer makes it good. This will involve a considerable degree of individual planning, as well as inconvenience and sacrifice. But Ickes says that if gasoline rationing in the East is to be averted, there will have to be voluntary curtailment.

There is one item of reassuring news in this gasoline and oil situation in the East. Spokesmen for the large oil companies assert that despite shortage of petroleum products, rationing of fuel oil to heat houses is not threatened for this winter. As one official put it: "If householders cooperate in a reasonable conservation program, no one is going to freeze."

If gasoline rationing is slapped on the East, the allowance being discussed is 15 gallons a week, which is going to cut down a lot of pleasure driving where a car is used for marketing, errands, driving to and from work and for the myriad of other uses to which an automobile is put today.

LEARNING SPANISH

One branch of a famous school of languages has had to put on six Spanish teachers and one Brazilian teacher of Portuguese for next year. Last year it taught 6,000 hours of Spanish and this year it will give more. Students are coming in to night classes from all its surrounding towns as well as from the city in which it is located.

Public and private high schools are finding their demand for Spanish increased. The interest in our neighbors to the south is spreading.

Knowing the language of one's neighbors is always a good idea. One college president gives his students the motto, "The man with one language is the man with one arm"—he is only half efficient.

EXCUSE IT, PLEASE

In Chicago, Traffic Judge Quilici has been dismissing borderline cases where the defendant offers an original excuse. The court became bored with the standardized stories of those who had received tickets for traffic offenses.

A defendant who said he's been entering contests all his life—slogan contests, jingle contests, vacation contests, etc.—without ever winning one, and hoped he'd win his contest with the judge, had his case dismissed.

It seems to be in the nature of an excuse to sound phony and shopworn. For example:

Letters: I haven't time to write.
Being late for dinner: We had a flat tire.
Not answering phone: He's in conference. He's out to lunch.
Being late at office: The alarm clock didn't go off.
Declining an invitation: We're expecting some people tonight.
Meeting a friend ignored for months: I was thinking about you only this morning.
Female alibi for all occasions: I didn't have a thing to wear.
The morning after: It must have been something I ate.
Character witness for dud: She's not a bit like that when you get to know her.
Overdue bill: The check's in the mail.
There are more, but these will do. All are as unoriginal as the traffic excuses that the Chicago court decries. Perhaps it is because they're all too often true.

ADVICE TO HITCH-HIKERS

Perhaps it would be just as well if there was a little less advice to the lovelorn and a little more to hitch-hikers. The former are looking for advice that none can impart, and the latter will not take the advice that everyone gives. This sounds like a stalemate, but here goes.

There are many persons the average driver would like to help. But they have buddies whose conduct is enough to cure the most philanthropic soul. For instance, there are some who edge into the road so far that it is a choice among jamming on the brakes, colliding with an approaching car, or amputating two or three legs at the knee joint. Any attempt to pass them by is at the driver's peril.

Then there is the type whose preemptory gestures indicate their conviction that they have a 51 per cent interest in the car which is in closest proximity to them and that the driver had better pick them up—or else. If he passes these, they'll hoot and make uncomplimentary gestures which sour a driver on all hitch-hikers.

One of the most irritating of the species "pest hitch-hiker" is the chap who gets into a car and after his carcass has been transported about one block tells the driver here is where he gets off.

They come in all shapes and sizes, by ones, twos and dozens. They make no distinction between an empty tonneau and one filled with duffel or passengers. They demand instead of asking, and they are a pain in the neck to a conscientious citizen who would like to do at least one good deed for the day on behalf of some deserving person.

If things continue, the pests will queer the pitch for everybody. But it probably does no good to tell them so.

Public opinion fools a crank senator. Once he shows himself cracked on some subject, he gets letters only from those who agree with him.

When Russia and Germany say there are no developments worth reporting, it means both have lost as much equipment as they have.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph.D.

DON'T NAG CORRECTING YOUR CHILD

A childless young wife who formerly was a teacher writes: "Just lately we have been unhappy together and it probably is my fault. We have wanted children but cannot have them, which adds to the trouble."

"The main difficulty seems to be in my expecting too much of my husband. He does not try to speak correctly, and so makes many mistakes. These irritate me when we are at parties, and while I realize it is sometimes forget and correct him in school-teacher fashion. Then there is always a scene, and he tells me in an unkind way of all my own faults."

This wife has diagnosed her own problem, and by implication has suggested the remedy. I'm sorry for her and sorry for her husband; a little more for him, perhaps. But I admire her for seeing clearly her own difficulties.

Wife Over-Sensitive

Just because she was a school teacher she is over-sensitive to her husband's grammar. If she had children she probably would worry about their grammar, too.

Incidentally, I wish teachers would not so often interrupt their pupils over slips in grammar; and I wish parents would correct errors of speech only at quiet moments, when the child would welcome the correction.

Now back to this wife, to whom I suggested the adoption of an infant. It will take a lot of self-discipline for her to cease nagging her hubby. He probably feels inferior to her in respect to school education and, in unconscious self-defense, resents her corrections. Perhaps he even grows more slovenly in speech just because she nags at him.

Not All-Important

I wish this wife and many parents and teachers might realize that interesting speech does not depend upon grammar, and that worry over grammar too often makes speech unattractive. Some illiterates, indeed, speak very picturesquely, and there are some English experts who might profit from listening to them attentively.

There are so many items in husband-wife and parent-child relationships that are important, that grammar, that it is a pity any adult should fret, or make of himself or herself a nuisance in the home over such small matters.

Q. Do you think my boy inherits poor reading from me? I was always ashamed when the teacher called on me to read.

A. Poor reading is not inherited; neither is special disability in any school subject, barring those caused by visual or auditory defects. Any one may have a copy of my "Home Helps for Poor Readers," without cost, by writing me in care of this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Q. We should like to help our 11-year-old girl improve her bad spelling during the summer. Have you any suggestions?

A. When you help her or hear her spell, be sure you are wholly calm and patient. The moment you feel the least bit angered at her weak way as to be in her presence I have prepared "Home Helps for Poor Spellers," to be had by anyone without cost by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, New York City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope stamped with three cents. In a second envelope, you may also receive similar "Home Helps for the Poor Reader."

Is Hitler Losing Out To Junkers?
Military Men May Be Running Army
Capital Discusses Current Rumors

By CHARLES P. STEWART

Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—Have the German military higher-ups relegated Herr Hitler to a back seat and started to run things according to their ideas, without much regard for his fuhrerliche preferences?

That's the story that's current in Washington. The source of it isn't very clear, though the presumption is that it's a diplomatic leak from somewhere. It isn't verifiable here, either. Nevertheless, there's a bit of circumstantial evidence in support of it. On analysis it doesn't sound altogether improbable.

Everybody'll remember that, only quite recently, Jap Foreign Minister Matsuoka visited Rome and Berlin to ask Duce Mussolini and Fuhrer Hitler, respectively, to be most helpful to totalitarianism in destroying the democracies, that Adolf told him that one way would be for him to arrange a Jap-Russian pact, that Minister Matsuoka did it, that almost immediately thereafter, Germany launched a blitzkrieg against the Soviet Union, and that this sequence of events made Minister Matsuoka look like such a sucker that Japan's Premier Konohe kicked him out of the Tokio cabinet.

It wasn't easy to see why Adolf should have plotted deliberately to double-cross his Japanese caller, considering that the latter was friendly to him. The general surprise was that he really wanted the Jap-Russian pact when he suggested it; then suddenly changed his mind and went ahead with his new program entirely regardless of the fix in which he was involving Minister Matsuoka.

The latest story makes better sense than that guess did.

Army Decides

The latest one's to the effect that Adolf didn't want a Jap-Russian pact and didn't intend then or thereafter, to attack the Soviets (not so soon, anyway), but that the German army command considered the time ripe for the blitz and turned it loose, telling Adolf to go chase himself.

That's some of the circumstantial evidence previously mentioned. Now for the analysis.

What class traditionally runs the German army? Why, the Junkers. And the Junkers are the Fatherland's military aristocracy. They never were democratic, but neither were the socialists like Herr Hitler and his Nazis. They were privileged nabobs. They got along with the kaiser because he was one of 'em. So was President von Hindenburg. The "von" at the front end of his name testifies to his noble status.

But Adolf was just a measly little workman—not a "von" or anything, a mere house painter. A marshal? Heck, no. A corporal. And yet he wormed in somehow, and deflated junkerdom.

Does it stand to reason that the Junkers liked it?

He caught 'em, initially, at a time when junkerdom was in an awful

The World and the Mud Puddles

THEY TOO ARE GREAT.

There have been no end of stories regarding the heroism displayed by the soldiers, the sailors and the airmen who are defending civilization from the terrific attacks of the Axis Powers, and when all is said and done, there will be a great many more stories.

Lamentably, the English reports of air raids upon Axis-held ports and cities say that so many planes did not return which, of course, means that so many men did not return. Out of Berlin, come stories of so many tons of shipping destroyed by the German U-boats, but few stories are told regarding the courage of the men who manned the ships which were sunk.

Every day out of the Caribbean Sea sails tankers from Venezuela ports to the British Isles. It is with dogged determination that the ship-owners of these tankers move slowly across the Atlantic, without for the most part any protection from either the under-sea boats or from the German planes overhead. Many of these tankers arrive, nevertheless, and the skippers go back for more.

Out of Halifax Harbor also sail many ships with supplies for Britons. Some of them use convoys and some of them go alone. Some of these lonely boats are old, old freighters and some of them are commanded by skippers who have fought the seas longer than the old boats they command. There are many of these old skippers and many of them are successful in delivering their cargo to the other side. Some of them have even survived the torpedo boats which destroyed their ships, and surviving have gone back to Halifax for more.

In this connection, there is a vast difference between the treatment of English sailors attempting to save themselves after the wreck of their boats and the German sailors caught in the same fix. Without any hesitation I can say that in every case the Germans not only refuse assistance, but are guilty of shelling the survivors in the water. While in every contra-instance, the English save all they can. They even saved the other day him who is considered the greatest of all submarine commanders—one who has destroyed more tons of shipping than any other submarine commander. They saved him from drowning after his U-boat had been destroyed and as a prisoner he was treated with so much consideration that he was given a first-class cabin on one of their ships.

The Germans are not considerate at all; the English are, and I believe that you cannot defeat a people who have the instincts of the English, as shown in this war.

Taxes And The President

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14.—NOTHING could more clearly demonstrate the utter lack in this Administration of anything resembling a coherent economic policy than the last-minute developments in the passage by the House of the gigantic tax bill which the Senate has just begun to wrestle. It is not surprising that for the House leaders, resentment should be mixed with relief at having finally gotten rid of their responsibility.

CERTAINLY there was justification for resentment. Instead of getting aid, counsel and support from the White House and Treasury, they were treated to an extraordinary exhibition of confused thinking and conflicting attitudes culminating in the President's letter urging certain changes upon Chairman Doughton but written after the bill was reported and it was too late to do anything about it. In this letter Mr. Roosevelt not only differed with his Treasury officials, and dissented from the expressed views of Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board and Mr. Leon Henderson, the Price Controller, but as Mr. Doughton respectfully pointed out, differed from himself.

UNDER such circumstances, members of the Ways and Means Committee would hardly be human if they were not a little bitter. They have reason to be, although one of the bestial Presidential recommendations, in which Mr. Morgenthau now heartily concurs, is almost too sound to dispute—to wit, that of broadening the tax base by lowering the exemptions. Had the President made this suggestion while the bill was being framed, or had his Treasury officials not then exhibited hostility to the idea, it would have been in the measure before it came out of the committee. But he—and they—waited until after the bill had been agreed upon—waited until there was no chance for action without a change, which was urged by representatives had opposed to which, in the past, Mr. Roosevelt himself had been consistently inimical.

CONSIDERING these things, the feeling of House leaders of having been dealt with deceptively is natural. Natural, too, is the doubt as to how much the President really wants his own recommendations adopted. If he is wholly sincere about this broadening-of-the-base proposal, there is not the least doubt to do is to let his rubber-stamp Senatorial friends, such as Senators Barkley and Pepper, know that there is a solid desire back of that futile House gesture. If he does that, it will go through the Senate with great speed and by decisive vote. (Continued On Page Six)

WAGES IN TRANSIT

Factories Lead

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—Employees in plants manufacturing transportation equipment received the highest average weekly earnings in any major industry in Pennsylvania during June. The state department of commerce reported today.

Their June earnings averaged $39.84 a week, almost $1.00 a week more than the average weekly payments to iron and steel workers whose hourly rate average 25 cents higher. The reason was that transportation equipment workmen average almost 45 hours a week, one of the longest work-weeks in the state's manufacturing plants, while iron and steel workers during June averaged just a trifle more than 42.5 hours.

The Great Game Of Politics

vote. As a matter of fact, one day five years ago the Senate passed a broadening-of-the-base amendment only to rescind it the next day under Presidential pressure. With Mr. Roosevelt now for the plan he formerly opposed, there would seem no doubt about its passage. The only doubt is about him.

EVEN in normal times, there never were any sane demagogic and unworthy reasons for opposing the base-broadening proposal. One big reason was that keeping the exemptions high promoted the idea that the Roosevelt Administration was determined to "soak the rich" and give the poor a free ride. That, while certainly a delusion, was a delusion which the New Dealers made pay big political dividends in every campaign from 1934 to 1940. Another big reason was the well-founded conviction that if more taxpayers were created the sentiment against the New Deal spending policies and in favor of economy in governmental expenditures would be enhanced. This was regarded as eminently understandable by the strategists of the Roosevelt regime, and every effort to promote a fair, sound, scientific and more productive tax system was blocked on the entirely false pretense that the Administration was protecting the poor man against the greedy rich.

THE falsity consisted in the fact that hidden taxes were piled up on the poor while no effective way of plugging the loopholes through which the very rich evade taxes was or has been devised. All the Administration did was to increase the rates but still confine the direct-tax payers to approximately 7,000,000 individuals of the 130,000,000 population, thus exempting from direct taxes the vast bulk of the wage-earning citizens, who receive most of the national income. Now the President and Mr. Morgenthau ask that some 7,000,000 of these be brought in by lowering the exemption for single persons from $800 to $750 and for married persons from $2,000 to $1,500.

THIS, of course, is a slight reduction, but that Mr. Roosevelt should urge any at all is a significant reversal of his former attitude. Unless he "back-caps" his own recommendation (and he has been known to do that), the chances are all that the Senate will make the reduction and that the House will accept it. It is, in fact, difficult to see how Congress, now that Presidential opposition no longer stands in the way, can avoid this action, as added to the other favoring reasons is the very weighty one that by lessening the purchasing power of the consumer masses, to whom most of the defense money now pouring out will flow, it would be a very greatly needed brake on inflation.

THERE is also the maddening necessity of finding revenue to take the place of the estimated $300,000,000 which would have been produced by the joint-tax return provision, knocked out in the House. Despite the Treasury recommendation, it is not likely that this will be restored in the Senate. Nor has the President's request that it be modified so as to exempt "earned income" been received with much favor. It was the Richmond Times Dispatch which first made the point that a sense of delicacy should have restrained Mr. Roosevelt from making that suggestion. If it should be adopted, no other couple in the country would profit as much as he and Mrs. Roosevelt.

What's What At A Glance

state of disorganization. Probably, while he was building himself up, the junkers didn't realize what was happening to 'em. By the time they did realize it, he'd put his stunt across and there wasn't anything they could do about it until some favorable opportunity presented itself. Maybe they thought they sensed such an opportunity in connection with the present situation.

If so, why don't they tie an actual can onto Adolf or liquidate him, as well as chuck him into 'the back-ground, still as a nominal, though no longer a sure-enough fuhrer?

The likeliest answer is that he continues to have, as yet, quite a rank-and-file following, and the junkers deem it unwise to be prematurely over-obvious.

As additional circumstantial evidence, deos Rudolf Hess' flight to Britain signify anything? It's a little too soon to say as to that, but it may turn out to be actual testimony.

How About Goering?

And then, for another rumor. It's persistently reported that Marshal Goering was demoted or forcibly retired awhile back, that at least he was in disfavor with Herr Hitler, that he positively was in jail, according to some accounts. These yarns have been denied again and again, but they keep coming. Do they imply that the marshal has been developing pro-junkerism?

All these reports are pretty vague in their censured times, but they're numerous and not entirely unconvincing. The junkers may be as bad as Adolf, but they'd be a change, anyway.

INCREASE IN EGGS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—An increase of eight million eggs produced by farm flocks in Pennsylvania was reported in June over the production of that month last year, according to the federal-state survey issued by the state department of agriculture.

"Chapter Of Youth," Lodge Organized

At Rinascenta Lodge Hall, Morton street, on Tuesday evening, a new lodge was formed under the direction of Joseph Tomasello and Joe Zagami, of Rinascenta Lodge No. 19. The new lodge represents the younger element of Rinascenta which was organized a few years ago, but discontinued.

In honor of the former organization, the name "Chapter Of Youth" No. 48 will be used. Present membership is 32, which it is expected will soon be largely increased.

At the business meeting the following officers were elected: Nunzio Fiala, president; Emilio J. Tomasello, vice president; Yolanda Giannino, orator; Louis Pozzani, financial secretary; Sylvia Vigliani, treasurer. Trustees, Anna Fiala, Louise Pizzitola, Dan Pozzani, Dom Savelli, Andy Salzano, Josephine Turco. Ladies of ceremonies, Carrie Ross, Anna Fiala, Sentinel, Gregg Ross.

After election of officers a committee was appointed to plan for a party in honor of Rinascenta lodge on Tuesday, August 19, at 8 in their club room on Morton street.

A future date installation of officers will take place in the presence of noted guests from the Pittsburgh district.

After the meeting, a number of the members met at the home of Louise and Ida Pizzitola of Harrison street, where refreshments were served by the hostesses.

CITES NEED OF VITAMIN B-1 IN THE HUMAN DIET

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Calif.—A steady decrease in the amount of highly important vitamin B-1 in the human diet has been occasioned by modern processing of foods, refining of sugar and removal of the outer husks of cereals, Dr. T. H. Jukes, University of California assistant professor of poultry husbandry, told a defense nutrition institute.

"In 1941," he said, "we are witnessing a belated but timely recognition of this deficiency in our diets and the cheapness of synthetic vitamin B-1 has led to efforts to raise the daily intake of this vitamin among the American people to a level that will correct the deficiency."

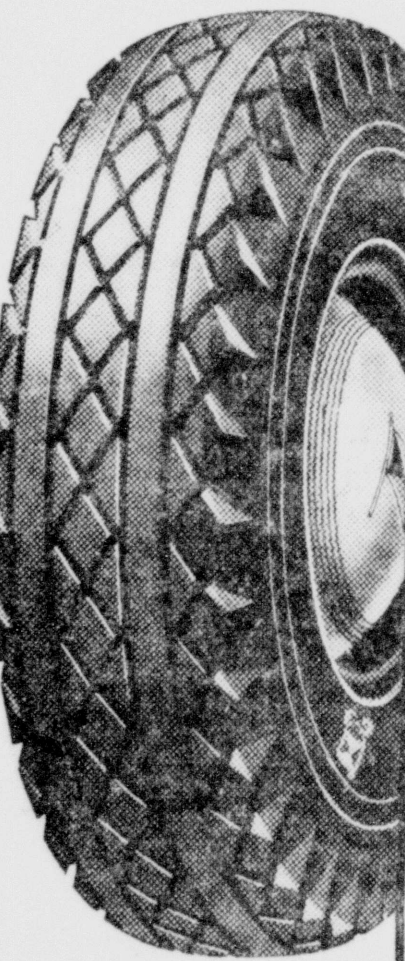

Lack of vitamin B-1 in man causes beriberi, retarded growth and development, nervous and gastrointestinal disturbances, disorders of the eyes, and various other symptoms. Brewer's yeast and wheat germ, whole grain cereals and bread, liver and kidney are among the best sources of the vitamin.

EMLENTON PLANS SHOW

University Will Acquaint Chiropodists With Foot Problems Of Military Men

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14.—The time-honored saw that an "army marches on its stomach" may have much behind it, but Temple University feels considerably more liberal about the matter. An army, it points out, marches on its feet.

On this theory the university has established a course in "military chiropody," an emergency measure designed to keep America's new army "on its feet" by acquainting chiropodists with the foot problems of soldiers and sailors.

The project has been created with government sanction and is planned to duplicate a successful, similar program by British chiropodists for Britain's home defenders, according to Dr. Charles E. Krausz, Dr. Krausz, assistant dean of the Temple Chiropody school, will direct instructors in the new course. Pointing out that while a painful corn or ingrown nail does not exempt a man from military service,

Dr. Krausz warned that nevertheless these and other local foot disturbances lower morale and diminish physical capacity.

Cause of "Trench Feet"
The common condition during World War known as "trench feet" was caused in part by the constriction of wet boots or puttees which impeded circulation of blood to the feet, the instructor said. The Temple course will stress the most effective method of preventing "trench feet" through scientific foot and shoe hygiene and exercise to improve circulation. A disabled corn, ingrown nail, irritated callous or other common foot ailment may easily cause a man to be "out of step" literally and figuratively with other of his comrades in arms, he added.

The course will become a part of the senior curriculum in September and will be available to members of the University's Chiropody Alumni Association every Tuesday evening, beginning October 7.

Pleads Guilty In Baby's Death

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Aug. 14.—Louis Koszura, 32, Hornell, N. Y., was held without bail Wednesday after pleading guilty to a murder charge in connection with the death of his infant daughter at Pittston three years ago.

Koszura, formerly a resident of Luzerne, was committed to Luzerne county prison pending the outcome of sanity tests. He claims to be a clergyman and to have been pastor of a church here several years ago. At the time he was taken into custody he was attending a Bible school in the New York town.

The prisoner, according to police, admitted he shook the baby violently in its crib because he was annoyed by it.

If it's a war of ideas, America should win. Our people have more ideas than any other.

Jean Darlan Calls For Full Support

Pledges French Nation To Carry Out Program Of Marshal Petain

(International News Service)
VICHY, Aug. 14.—Admiral Jean Darlan, vice-premier and new "dictator" of all the French armed forces, today called upon Frenchmen for full support in "reorganizing the country with discipline."
In a special broadcast to the army, navy and air force, Darlan, friend of collaboration with Germany, said that he was "proud" of his appointment as French defense minister.
"I promise to devote the army to the cause of France, which has been so nobly defended by the Marshal," he said, pledging himself to carry out the policies of Marshal Henri Petain, French chief of state.
"You can all count on me to guide the nation on the way the Marshal has chosen with far-sightedness and wisdom."
"The nation's defeat cannot spoil the morale of men whose courage was recognized even by the enemy."
"All three armed forces have the same motto: 'Honor, Fatherland, Courage, Discipline.' These four words guide the Marshal. With these four words alone shall we carry on."
Darlan did not amplify Marshal Petain's declaration on Tuesday on collaboration with Germany, or give any concrete details of his own policies as defense minister.

Calls Gov. James Long Distance Boss

David L. Lawrence, Democratic Committeeman, Criticizes Governor
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—National Committeeman David L. Lawrence sharply assailed Gov. Arthur H. James today, labelling him the "long distance boss" and slate-maker of the Allegheny county Republican organization.
Addressing the district conference of the Pennsylvania federation of Democratic women, he declared: "The Republican organization which less than a year ago chased Governor James into a darkened third-tier box at Forbes Field so that the black shadow of his unpopularity would not blight the slow, steady advance of Wendell Wilkie is all of a sudden delivered over to Governor James."
"And the governor calls his key-man, James H. Duff, a utilities lawyer, to Harrisburg, and they confer and emerge with a slate, yes, even a candidate for mayor."
"Governor James, who did not carry Pittsburgh in the primary of his own party, or in the general election, becomes the long-distance boss of the local Republican machine."
Lawrence also commented on the independent movement within the G. O. P. ranks, saying "you'll hear a lot about new leadership in the Republican party."

Reynolds Reunion To Be August 20

District's Oldest Family Reunion Will Take Place At Cascade

The Reynolds family reunion, one of New Castle's largest family get-togethers—certainly the oldest from the standpoint of annual meetings—will take place in Cascade park Old Timers' Day, Wednesday, August 20.

The outing, always held on the day the city's older residents gather, brings together descendants of William Reynolds. This year's reunion will mark the 76th annual session. Basket dinners are scheduled for 12 noon and 6 p.m., those in charge of arrangements said. Sports will play a big part in the program. Officers of the reunion group are Chester P. Reynolds, prominent merchant, president; Howard M. "Buck" Reynolds, first vice president; Paul C. Reynolds, Ellwood City, second vice president; Howard L. Reynolds, secretary, and Howard A. Reynolds, treasurer.

The first family reunion was April 11, 1866.

W. C. T. U. and L. T. L.

HIGHLAND W. C. T. U.
Mrs. R. S. Cline was hostess to members of the Highland W. C. T. U. Tuesday evening in her home on Hillcrest avenue, with Mrs. W. G. Wilkins and Mrs. W. H. Humphrey as special guests.
Mrs. Leonard Kisthart was in charge of devotions, with Mrs. J. A. Sommers and Mrs. O. A. Rodgers also taking part.
The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Cline, and a summary of the year's work was given by treasurer, Mrs. A. C. Allen, and flower secretary, Mrs. Edward Shields.

"Helping the Allied Youth of America" was the topic discussed by Mrs. A. C. Allen. Mrs. F. J. Fox spoke on "Alcohol, Men's Dearest Friend." The speeches were followed by a general discussion by the group.
A song, "The L. T. L. Flower Garden," was sung by Mary Jane Parker, Jane Urban and Billy Book, accompanied by Winifred Kisthart. They also served refreshments, later, at a cleverly arranged "L. T. L. stand."

Civilized men could avoid strikes. Imagine trying to manage our country by striking until we get the laws we desire.

Young Margiotti Somewhat Better

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Aug. 14.—The condition of Charles Margiotti, Jr., 12-year-old son of former attorney general of Pennsylvania who was injured critically in a 20-foot fall from a trestle on Monday, was regarded as slightly improved today after the youngster had passed a good night in Adrian hospital.
The youth suffered fractures of the nose, upper jaw, left arm, and a possible fracture of the skull. X-rays will be made later to determine the full extent of his injuries, hospital attaches reported.

St. Vitus Church Has Anniversary

Thirty Fourth Anniversary
Of St. Vitus Church To Be Observed August 15

SPECIAL SERVICES TO BE CONDUCTED

A double significance is connected with the date of August 15, which is not only the date of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, now being observed in the Catholic churches of the city, but it also marks the thirty-fourth anniversary since the dedication of St. Vitus church.

On August 15, 1906, the cornerstone of the present St. Vitus church was laid, on the site previously occupied by the old Methodist church. Inside of one year, the church was completed, and on August 15, 1907 St. Vitus church was dedicated by Bishop Francis Canavin, then bishop of the Pittsburgh diocese. The church was a small one at that time, but through the efforts of the pastor, the Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita, ordained as pastor on September 24, 1905, the church has grown to be one of the largest Catholic congregations of the city. This was achieved only through the cooperation of the members of the church, who aided the pastor, Father DeMita, Assistant pastor at the church today, is Rev. Fr. Albert M. Inteso.

Special services in celebration will be conducted on that day in honor of the occasion. First vespers services in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be held this evening at the church at 7:30 o'clock, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. Friday evening, the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary, second vespers services will be conducted. Friday morning masses are at 6:30, 8:30 (children's mass) and 10:30 o'clock. The last mass is a solemn high mass, and the sermon will be given in Italian by Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita. Every year, groups and organizations attend services on this day, and included are members of the Casa Savoia Society, who will attend the high mass in a body. It is expected that a large group will attend mass on this day, (Friday) a Holy Day of Obligation.

News Briefs From City Hall

During council meeting, held in city hall today, solons agreed to inform the state highway department the city would curb Croton avenue extension if the highway department will pave that stretch (across the furnace grounds) to a full width of 42 feet. Plans and specifications for the paving of that section and also other stretches on the Route 422 by-pass following which it has been reported the state will start paving.

Council today met in city hall and authorized the purchasing agent to purchase from the Francis Motor Sales company a chassis and from the Elgin corporation a "refuse getter" of 13 cubic yards capacity. The chassis will cost about $1,100 and the "refuse-getter" or body, about $1,800, it was reported. The proposed new vehicle will be larger than the new type of garbage collector now in service.

Professor Says World Will Face Grave Problems With The Ending Of Hostilities

(International News Service)
BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 14.—America and the rest of the world will face, after the cessation of hostilities, even greater problems than are presented by the war, according to Dr. Frederick J. Teggart, professor of social institutions at the University of California.

In a recent article in the American Journal of Sociology Dr. Teggart urged that a thorough historical study be made of demobilization after war.

"The difficulties inseparable from war, whatever the outcome of the conflict," Dr. Teggart wrote, "do not end with the cessation of fighting, for demobilization presents in the long run problems which have graver issues than the calling out of troops."

"The men drafted as soldiers are returned to civil life, and a grateful country suggests that they should be given preference in employment. Yet, contemporaneously, those who were engaged in war industries—many of them experts diverted to the construction of the elaborate equipment now required for military actions—are also disbanded."

And where, as in England, the majority of able-bodied men and women have been drawn into war work, the disbanding process must eventually assume bewildering proportions.

"We most urgently need a detailed and thorough study of what has happened in different countries at different times when those engaged in the efforts demanded by war have been released from their war activities."

Evelyn McLean, 20-year-old wealthy heiress to the Hope diamond, and Senator Robert Reynolds, 57, of North Carolina, admit their engagement and intention to marry. Miss McLean will soon receive $50,000 a year income from the estate of her late grandfather, Publisher John McLean.

"Be Prepared Before Seeking Auto Test"

—Corporal Hoover

"Applicants for a motor vehicle operator's permit are judged on their physical condition, ability to drive, courtesy to others and knowledge of motor vehicle laws," Corporal Hoover, P. M. P. stated here while conducting examinations in Sampson street. The auto, too, must be in condition.

"A certain percentage fails to survive the test because they do not properly prepare for an examination," the corporal explained. By this, he implied they receive a learner's permit and anxious to drive, take a test not being qualified they are rejected, temporarily.

He said the first thing to do is to sign the learner's permit in ink. The next is to get a good, licensed operator as a tutor. Of course, one should also test his vision and learn if it is good or spectacles are needed. No one can pass unless they know the motor vehicle laws," he added.

"It is far better to wait until one is qualified than to rush pell mell to the test station and take a test. When one is 'falled' three times in succession it will be some time until he can take the test again," he concluded.

Married Two Hours Then Meets Death

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—Maurice Critchlow, 22-year-old Bridgeville youth, was dead Wednesday, killed in an automobile accident near Confluence, Somerset county, just two hours after his marriage to Amelia Perry in Cumberland, Md.

The bride of two hours was critically injured and Mrs. Geraldine Staude, the bride's sister, and her husband, Oscar J. Staude, 34, who were attendants at the wedding, were seriously injured.

Police said they were riding in the Critchlow car when it struck a bump and skidded into another car driven by George E. Emig, of Washington. Emig and Dorothy Guy, 27, also of Washington, a passenger in Emig's car, were taken to the Uniontown hospital.

Probe Sabotage At Struck Plant

(International News Service)
MAHWAH, N. J., Aug. 14.—Federal agents and local police Wednesday investigated the sabotage of equipment at the strikebound plant of the American Brake Shoe and Foundry Company, holders of national defense contracts.

The saboteurs threw sand in the moving parts of the power plant generators in the mile-long plant, broke the gauges of a Diesel locomotive, put a crane out of commission, and smashed dozens of windows.

Officials of the A.F.L. International Molders and Foundry Workers Union, who called the strike at the plant last July 28 in a dispute over the terms of a working contract, denied any knowledge of the sabotage.

NO PERSON HURT

County commissioner's chief clerk, William A. Eakin of Carlisle street is confined to his home by illness.

Because of the heavy calendar of desertion and non-support cases, three days are being devoted to this branch of the judiciary by Judges Braham and Matthews. It had originally been intended to devote only Friday to hearing these cases.

Only five Lawrence county soldiers will exercise their right of franchise at the fall primary, that number having made application for the right to vote before the final day last Saturday, under the provisions of a state law passed by the legislature and signed by the governor. The law was passed too late for the county commissioners to communicate with each soldier who is away at camp, so county candidates will lose around 500 soldier votes, and many individuals will be deprived of the privilege of voting.

Today is the last day on which writs can be issued on the sheriff to have property listed for the October sheriff's sale of real estate.

Some of the county school districts may be up against it for funds during the coming year, as the result of the signing by Governor James of a bill raising the minimum salary of elementary school teachers in the county districts from $800 to $1,000, and of high school teachers from $1,000 to $1,200.

Most of the school districts figured on this increase when they set up their budgets, but some did not, and as a result, may have to go out and borrow money before the term ends. The state pays the difference of this increase, but it will not be paid out until next year, or after the current school term ends.

John W. Cox of R. F. D. No. 5 has been appointed judge of elections in the first district of Wilmington township, to succeed Elsie Cheers, who resigned, the appointment being made Wednesday by Judge W. Walter Braham.

Harry Weatherby, who pleaded guilty to moral charges, was before the court Wednesday for sentence, being ordered to pay the costs, a fine of $10 and imprisonment in the county jail for six months, sentence being suspended provided he pay the costs, lying in charges, and $9 per month for the support of the child on the second charge.

Believe it or not, but there are some schools in Lawrence county, particularly elementary schools which are without teachers, and the fall term is less than three weeks away. County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling states. There are about a half-dozen vacancies at the present time.

Two additional checks were received by County Treasurer Earl R. Wimer on Wednesday in the amount of $43,559.16 and $40,333.29, respectively, as refunds on the liquid fuel tax due the county up to June 1, 1941, completing the payments owing the county. This brings the total paid the county this year to $116,606.15, all of which has been paid in the past week.

CAT LOST IN TREE 31 DAYS

(International News Service)
BURLINGTON, Vt.—"Fluffy" the large prized Blue Persian tomcat of Mrs. Charles C. Lord of this city, was imprisoned up a tree for 34 days without food or water and is alive, though in a weakened, emaciated condition. The cat, weighing 15 pounds, disappeared, dragging a broken leash behind him. Children found him in a tree several hundred yards from home, his leash having caught in a crotch eight feet from the ground and securely shrouding him to the tree. The cat weighed only five pounds when found.

FIREMEN RECEIVE THREE FIRE CALLS IN SIX MINUTES

(International News Service)
DALLAS, Tex.—J. J. Holton was pressing pants in his shop when a passerby stopped to tell him the shop was on fire, apparently started from a defective flue.

The presser calmly walked to a telephone and called fire station 23, close by.

Trucks roaring out of the station went the opposite direction, however, and then a second group of fire fighters raced by—leaving Holton helpless.

Finally his call was answered. Fire Marshal Thompson said that three fires were reported in the vicinity in six minutes—and the station just couldn't keep up with the business.

Several shops adjoining Holton's press shop were damaged by smoke and water.

Thaddeus Stevens Reunion To Be Held Friday August 22nd.

With all the committees reporting progress in their respective duties, plans for the third annual reunion of the Thaddeus Stevens school teachers and pupils are nearing completion. The event will take place at Cascade Park on Friday, August 22. Attendance records of the past two years are expected to be surpassed.

Many class pictures are on display at McKinley and Prantz drug store, and more will be in evidence soon.

Send Letters

Letters have been sent to all former students, outlining the day's program fully. Those receiving letters are asked to contact others, who have not registered, and urge their attendance this year. A silver cup, which is given to the class with the largest number present has been won for two consecutive years, by the class of '98, but the younger groups are planning to give them plenty of competition this year.

All those who were in any way connected with Thaddeus Stevens from its opening in 1898 until January 1921, are invited to bring their families and attend the reunion.

Mrs. Bertha Stewart Campbell has gotten in touch with all former teachers, and reports that a large number will be on hand to greet their students. Miss Mary Moorehead, oldest living teacher, who has been totally blind for many years, will attend. Miss Moorehead takes a keen delight in identifying her many friends by their voices. Miss Anna Leonard, oldest teacher in point of service, who was active in promoting the first reunion, will also be present.

The award for the "boy" and "girl" coming the longest distance to attend the reunion will again have keen competition. Besides students from the tri-state district, it is reported that Florida may be represented, as well as several western states.

Picnic Dinner

A picnic dinner will be enjoyed, and coffee and lemonade will be provided by the committee. Frank Norris and Tom Kennedy.

A public address system will be installed by Wayne Sines, for convenience in carrying out the program, and will be manned by Johnny Brinton. In addition, the first aid division of the American Red Cross has consented to establish a station in the grove.

The following officers and committees are working hard to make this year's reunion a complete success: President, William E. Clarke; vice president, T. Humphrey Richards; treasurer, Mrs. Olive Glasser Marshall; secretary, Francis Hammond.

Teachers' Invitations committee: Mrs. Bertha Stewart Campbell; sports, Arthur McNickle, William E. Lehto, Ben J. Clark, Lee Whiting, Merritt Reynolds, Arthur Redmond; prizes, T. Humphrey Richards, John P. Brinton, Wayne Sines J. Marion Swisher, John Velker, Clarence Welsh.

Registration for teachers, Mrs. Grace Blackford Hulme; registration for students, Mrs. Ruth Barnett Gibson, Mrs. Gladys Gray Kyle, Mrs. Isabel Hanna McKee, Mrs. Grace Patterson Cameron, Mrs. Marie Mitchell Burdett, Mrs. Lena Gere Huffman, Mrs. Guila Yoho Gruks, Mrs. Ruth Buchanan Craig; publicity, Francis Hammond, Bari Richards.

Table committee, Mrs. Lena Glasser Alford, Mrs. Elizabeth Gaston Hatfield, Mrs. Olive McKissick Zeigler, Mrs. M. R. Sweet, Jr., Mrs. Mary Beighley Jones; coffee, Allen Cartwright, Clyde Hennon, Garth Kennedy, Clair Alford, Leroy Book, Frank Norris, Earl McKnight, Claude Norris; lemonade, Tom Kennedy, Dave Bollard, Ed Bollard, Carl Black, George Marks, Howard Swinesburg, Everett Johnson, Harry Redmond.

North Mercer street passersby may view in the large lobby windows of The News photographs of nearly 150 New Castle oldtimers many of whom were "community pillars" here years ago.

The collection of pictures, owned by Fred L. Rentz, head of The News, is helping to focus civic attention on the 1941 Old Timers' Day at Cascade Park Wednesday, August 20.

Included with the smaller photos is a large framed likeness of New Castle's celebrated Tim Hennessy, a photo often seen in Hannon's fish market.

Gymanfa Ganu Chorus Returns From Farrell

After a rehearsal, a splendid lunch was served by the ladies of the church.

Peter Encourages Suffering Christians

Highlights On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

St. Peter

"If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed: but let him glorify God in this name."—1 Peter 4:16.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for Aug. 17 is 1 Peter 4:12-19; 5:6-11, the Golden Text being 1 Peter 4:16, "If a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name.")

AT THE time St. Peter wrote his two epistles, a great persecution of the Christians was going on. The very name of Christian applied to a man was likely to get him into trouble with the authorities. Christians were accused of being evil doers and of preaching revolutionary doctrines.

Nero of Rome had set the example of putting them to death, and in the provinces there were many who were only too willing to follow his example. Paul, Aquila and Luke were already martyred, and followers of Christ had few to whom they could turn to strengthen their faith and give them comfort in their sufferings. Peter himself, according to report, was later crucified, but insisted that he be put to death head downward, as he felt he was not worthy to die in the position in which his Master, Jesus, had perished.

So while he was still among them, Peter undertook to speak words of comfort and to strengthen the hearts and wills of his fellow Christians.

"Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial among you, which cometh upon you to prove you, as though a strange thing happened to you," he writes. Peter himself knew how weak is man, for had he not denied his Lord three times when Jesus most needed him, and repented in tears and humility?

Martyrs Should Rejoice

Instead of wondering why such grief and suffering had come upon them, they should rejoice because they were also partakers of Christ's sufferings. Such persecution would "prove them," show that they were true followers of their Master and not afraid to die, if need be, for the cause they believed in.

"If ye are reproached for the name of Christ, blessed are ye, because the spirit of glory and the spirit of God resteth on you."

Have you ever been razed and insulted by schoolmates or friends because you wouldn't do as they wanted you to, thinking it not right? If you have, you know a very little about the feelings of these poor men and women, who, because they dared stand by their convictions, were in danger of being tortured and put to death. You were in no danger of losing your life because you took a stand for what you believed was right, but you can appreciate their terror and unhappiness in a small world today who also are suffering measure. There are many in the world today who are suffering for their convictions and going to their death therefore, sad to relate. They need our sympathy and help as the early Christians needed Peter's.

Peter tells them next that when they suffer for their faith they are not to act as if they were wrongdoers—murderers, thieves or those who had been interfering in matters with which they had no concern.

"But if a man suffer as a Christian, let him not be ashamed; but let him glorify God in this name."

How many martyrs went to their death at this time of persecution, not as criminals, but glorifying God, glad that they had a chance to show their faith by dying as their Savior had died before them.

They were not to be afraid or to worry about what would befall them, "casting all your care upon Him; for He careth for you," Peter assured them. If they trusted in their Lord there was no need to be anxious, even for God cares for His children and would not desert them, even in time of "fiery trial" that was close upon them.

"Be sober, be vigilant; because your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour."

Temptation is always present, and should be resisted. Christians should remain "steadfast in the faith."

"But the God of all grace, who hath called us unto His eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered awhile, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you."

"To Him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen."

GRAPE CROP IN STATE SMALLER

HARRISBURG, Aug. 14.—Although grape production in Pennsylvania, due to freezing temperatures during the spring in the Erie section, is indicated to show a decrease of 5,300 tons below the 23,000 tons produced last year, production for the country at large is expected to increase from 2,543,910 tons last year to 2,553,820 tons this year.

Why should Roosevelt hesitate to destroy and tear down if good will come of it? The New Deal did a lot of that.

German Bombers "Telegraph Punch"

By MERRILL MUELLER
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Aug. 14.—German air raids on Britain "telegraph punch" before the enemy bombers reach these shores. I am able to reveal today after a study of the most secret organization of the Allied forces in this war—the operations room of fighter command, Royal Air Force.

After the original warning, from the airplanes over the sea, Britain's great defensive weapon, radio-location, takes over control of defenses and assists fighter pilots and operational headquarters in making contact with the enemy.

Down Deep
But behind the complex operations of squadrons in the air is the one focal point of all fighter command's operations, offensive or defensive, the "brain-room": a huge underground cavern deep down somewhere in this island where men and women with telephone and radio equipment face a huge map on which every movement of any kind pertaining to aerial operations is plotted.

If you saw a recent motion picture of Hollywood's idea of how the United States Army Air Corps organizes its defenses, you saw a rough impression of the R. A. F. Fighter Command operational headquarters. I say a rough idea because the U. S. A. Air Corps copied only in part from the R. A. F., the recent developments here have expanded the facilities beyond imagination.

In this huge underground brain-room of all R. A. F. fighters a tremendous map fills practically the entire floor space, while around it, like computers at a roulette table, sit W. A. A. F. S. and R. A. F. men handling long electrically operated pointers to move markers indicating R. A. F. fighters, British convoys, British bombers, enemy bombers, fighters or convoys. The map covers England and most of the continent's "invasion coast."

Control Officers
On the "second floor" sit the operational control officers before switchboards and radios. They face the tilted map and huge charts below them indicating the dispositions and conditions of the fighter forces at their disposal. Opposite sits the man whose finger starts the air raid warnings of any or all sectors of England. His miniature map of the country corresponds with the huge map below him and when he has given a warning signal to any area his map lights accordingly.

On the day that I visited this room, weather was restricting many operations but I learned, from information relayed to the map-tenders on the floor below, that six German bombers were flying at 4,000 feet off the coast and that two German fighters were maneuvering at 20,000 feet above the channel. From whence or how this information was arrived at, I haven't the vaguest idea but the air commander who was my host said such estimates were "damned accurate" and "damned useful at the start of Jerry's raids on this country!"

I read the map carefully and then imagined the pictures it gave me as its tenders constantly checked and rechecked the positions of the indicators on its face.

Two convoys were passing the Straits of Dover. They had Spitfire and Hurricane protection over them consisting of sufficient strength to keep the enemy at home. The weather was low and murky. Two convoys, north and south bound, were passing close to the east coast. They, too, the host said, had sufficient protection. Other convoys with their airplane escorts indicated, were off other English ports.

All Indicated
Far out in the North sea, and roaming the channel, fighters or coastal command aircraft were indicated on reconnaissance patrol. Every now and then the positions and strengths of every air formation indicated was altered according to latest information.

Three German machines headed, as we tensely watched the indicators moved upward, toward our convoys in the channel. Instantly the fighter "ops" got busy. A stand-by order went to a Spitfire squadron and a broadly the "shift" that had guided our map indicators changed hands with a fresh group as the never-sleeping "brain-room" of R. A. F. Fighter Command went on with its minute by minute battle against the enemy. A battle of brains far from the front.

Dean Reunion At Grove City

Mrs. W. E. Dean of South Walnut street has been asked by Mrs. H. D. James, Sandy Lake, secretary-treasurer, to announce that the 65th annual Dean reunion will be at Grove City Memorial park August 21. The occasion will be in the form of a basket picnic. Dinner will be served at noon.

Time says a general called "Here boy!" and felt justly rebuked when a Negro private answered: "I'm not a boy; I'm a soldier." But they'll always be soldier boys to politicians.

Two Small Youths Believed Drowned

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 14.—Two boys, one 15 and one 12, were feared drowned in the Ohio river after waves from a towboat upset their craft.

The two boys were believed to be William Martin, 15, and Raymond Cassidy, 12, who were reported missing by Martin's father shortly after the accident occurred opposite Neville Island.

Captain Jack Silver of the Steamer Iron City stopped his boat when attracted by the calls of witnesses to the accident. Spectators said they were too far away from the boys' craft to see exactly what happened. The overturned boat was found in the river and grappling crews immediately put to work in an attempt to find the bodies.

List Principles For World Order

all men in all the lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want.

7. "Such a peace should enable all men to traverse the high seas without hindrance."

8. "They believe that all nations of the world... must come to the abandonment of the use of force... They believe that the disarmament of such nations is essential... and they will encourage measures which will lighten for peace-loving peoples the crushing burden of armaments."

Clear Cut Statement

The joint declaration represented the clearest statement of peace aims which have been made by the British government since the outbreak of the war. It led observers in Washington to believe that the British may be pressing the United States government for more drastic assistance in the war and that President Roosevelt decided before committing this country to any greater participation in the conflict to obtain a definite pledge from Churchill that Great Britain would agree to the sort of peace aims which this government has in mind.

It represents the only time in history that Great Britain has renounced any territorial claims in a major war in which it was involved. It also represents the first definite commitment by Great Britain that it will agree to this government's plan for a wider distribution of the raw materials of the world to those countries who do not now enjoy them.

Lack of such access to raw materials was one of the fundamental reasons given both by the Nazis, Italy and Japan for their movements of conquest.

The joint declaration also guarantees, insofar as the two greatest naval powers of the world are concerned, complete freedom of the high seas in the world which they have agreed to build.

The declaration hinted at the establishment of some sort of association of nations in which all nations will be afforded "the means of dwelling in safety within their own boundaries, and which will afford assurance that all the men in the lands may live out their lives in freedom from fear and want."

promised after "the final destruction of the Nazi tyranny."

The joint declaration represented, in effect, the democracies alternative for the "totalitarian new order" which the Axis powers are endeavoring to establish by force throughout the world. It was seen as an appeal not only to the peoples of Great Britain and the United States but to those of all the little countries of the world to place their faith in the democracies instead of giving way to the Axis new order.

The declaration also promised that Great Britain and the United States will respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they wish to live and promised that the Anglo-American cause will restore the "sovereign rights and self government" to those "who have been forcibly deprived of them."

In an explanatory note to the joint declaration, President Roosevelt said that the conference had included an examination of the whole problem of the supply of munitions of war, as provided by the lease-lend act, for the armed forces of the United States and for those countries actively engaged in resisting aggression.

Aid To Russia

The President also gave renewed assurance to Soviet Russia that that country will receive American aid in its fight against Germany by stating that conferences which are to take place in Washington with Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply, "will also cover the supply problems of the Soviet Union."

The President's note disclosed that he and Churchill have had several conferences. There was no intimation that the conferences were definitely concluded, although such was implied by the fact that they had issued the joint declaration of common policy.

The President's statement said that he and the prime minister "have considered the dangers to world civilization arising from the policies of military domination by conquest upon which the Hitlerite government of Germany and other governments associated therewith have embarked, and have made clear the stress (the latter word was believed by the White House to have been garbled in transmission and was thought to mean "steps") which their countries are respectively taking for their safety in the face of these dangers."

The White House statement did not disclose the exact location at sea where the President and Churchill met. Nor did the announcement reveal whether they met on board a warship or aboard the President's yacht Potomac. However, it was taken for granted that on whatever ship they met, a strong force of American warships, and probably British, stood by with their crews at action stations to protect the momentous meeting of the two political leaders of the English-speaking nations.

Battleships, cruisers, destroyers, submarines and warplanes probably were at hand to ward off any attack from a stray Nazi submarine or raider that might have found itself in the vicinity of the meeting.

While the official announcement of the meeting did not name the American officials who were with them it was believed that among those present were Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, Admiral Harold R. Stark, chief of naval operations, Lt. Gen. H. H. Arnold, chief of the army air corps, and Harry Hopkins, lease-lend coordinator.

Marshall, Stark and Arnold have been absent from their posts in Washington for the past week. Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles also has been mysteriously absent from the capital. Hopkins returned to Moscow Aug. 2 after a quick trip to Moscow where he conferred with Joseph Stalin.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

London, Aug. 14.—Major Richard Clement Attlee, long privy seal, today broadcast to the world an eight-point Anglo-American program of peace "after the Nazi tyranny has been smashed" which London observers predicted would nip any new Hitler "peace offensive" in the bud.

Attlee read over the radio a carefully prepared statement, identical in tone released at the same time in Washington, summing up in brief, concise phrases the decisions reached at an historic, unprecedented high seas meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

There was no official reaction forthcoming in London. The document, it was said in authoritative quarters, "speaks for itself."

At the high seas meeting, it was explained, Churchill represented only the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland. It was expected, however, that Australia, Canada and other dominions and colonies would immediately associate themselves with this clear delineation of a new and hoped-for world with freedom for all and tyranny for none.

The announced trip of Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook to Washington was interpreted as a move to ascertain what munitions intended for Britain under the lend-lease plan can be diverted to Russia without harming the British war effort.

Diplomatic circles emphasized that this was the first time Churchill has ever publicly outlined Britain's war aims. The eight points, it was said, fully represent everything for which Britain is fighting.

The consensus in London was that the declaration "firmly forestalls and stifles" any German peace move while Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler is in the saddle of unlimited power at the van of the Nazi military machine.

Attlee's broadcast thrilled the nation. Factories and workshops geared to 24-hour production, suddenly were stilled. Gigantic machines, forges, presses and clanking instruments of war manufacture quieted down, and in place of that mechanized roar came the calm, studied voice of Britain's Oxford-educated Laborite leader and Churchill's deputy in the House of Commons.

London, Aug. 14.—London observers today remarked on the similarity between the Roosevelt-Churchill peace declaration and President Wilson's 14 points.

Some commentators predicted an eventual league of nations "with teeth in it" after the war is over.

Rome, Aug. 14.—Referring to reports of a meeting between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Virginia Gayda, Premier Mussolini's press spokesman, wrote in the Giornale D'Italia today:

"The next few hours will bring new revelations of plots between the Washington and London warmongers."

London, Aug. 14.—The Anglo-American declaration of peace aims was warmly welcomed by the Soviet embassy in London today.

References of aid to the Soviet Union are chiefly appreciated, a spokesman said.

Tokyo, Aug. 14.—Cabled to Tokyo at the urgent rate of 72 cents per word, the 8-point Anglo-American declaration was widely publicized in the Japanese press tonight.

Domei, official Japanese news agency, said:

"It is considered significant that Japan apparently was not mentioned in connection with the declaration."

(Editor's Note: Of the alleged aggression nations, the declaration mentioned only Germany, and there was expressed only a determination to wipe out "Nazi tyranny." There was no mention of Japan—but neither was Italy named.)

BERLIN, Aug. 14.—In their initial comment on the Anglo-American peace aim declaration, authentic German quarters tonight branded it a "propaganda blunder."

Sarcastically asserting that Germany's current victories in the Ukraine far overshadow everything else, a spokesman added:

"This 8-point program merely dishes up the same old stuff we've heard before."

Will Take Over Stockpiles Of Pig-Scrap Iron

Government Drafting Regulation To Commandeer
Needed Materials

MORE RIGID CONTROL OF STEEL PLANNED

By JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14—An order commandeering stockpiles of pig and scrap iron—the first seizure move by the government since the $58,000,000 defense program started 13 months ago—is being drafted by defense officials today along with other measures to meet an imminent steel shortage.

The order, it was learned, is being drawn up by metals experts of the office of price administration and civilian supply headed by Leon Henderson. Negotiations are under way with large steel companies to determine whether they will surrender parts of their inventories of pig iron.

Voluntary cooperation is expected from the major steel producers, and the seizure edict, when it is served, will merely be a receipt for the amount of the stockpile taken over. In the case of scrap iron, it is to be used as a club to force hoarders to place their supplies on the market.

More Rigid Control
Meanwhile, the O.P.M. priorities division is preparing either one or two orders to provide for more rigid control of steel. Pig iron, it is reported, will be placed under drastic priority control, regulations and steel may also be brought under the program in a second order.

The orders may provide for creation of a pig iron pool. Under the plan, steel companies will be asked to set aside a certain amount of scrap iron every month for the pool. From it, pig iron then can be diverted to companies whose defense production might lag because of a shortage.

One defense official explains that the situation in scrap and pig iron—there are shortages in both fields—is so tight that "it very possibly will contribute to less than capacity operation by steel companies." This means that steel production may drop in the near future just when demands for steel for defense work are growing.

First Call For Defense
To make sure that defense gets the first call on present steel capacity, the priorities division is drawing up the new regulations providing for tighter control of steel. An increasing number of complaints, it is said, are being received over the inability of semi-defense industries, such as railroad car building, to get adequate steel supplies.

The government, it is rumored, will be forced to maintain rigid controls until more capacity is obtained through expansion and building of new mills.

About one-half of the nation's steel is made from pig iron and the other half from scrap iron. With shortages in both fields developing, the new regulations providing for the tighter controls are expected to be promulgated either late today or tomorrow.

The threatened steel shortage may hit some non-defense industries hard. It probably will be reflected in declines in production of a wide variety of consumer goods such as automobiles, refrigerators, ironers, washers, household appliances and metal furniture. The cut in automobile production, it is estimated, will run from about 30 percent in the first quarter of the new model year starting today to perhaps more than 50 percent in November and the remaining months of the model year.

"The others tell," says a senator, "so I won't be bound by a pledge of secrecy." If others aren't honorable, why should I be?

Lions Corn Roast Has Crowd Of 125

Members And Ladies Feast
On Corn And Wieners—
Many Guests

With a crowd of 125 in attendance the New Castle Lions club last night held its annual corn and wieners roast at McKees Beach along the Perry highway near Leesburg.

Ladies of the Lions and a group of guests joined the club members for an outing of mushball, horseshoes, swimming (some, anyway) and all-around frolic of sports.

The evening feast, of course, was the highlight of the fun.

During a brief program following, Dr. Travis A. French, one of the Lions, was presented with his Lion Key, an emblem awarded to members who win two new members for the club. Another former Lion here, William H. Fenton, now residing in Hadley, Pa., was named a member-at-large of the New Castle group inasmuch as his interest remains although distance keeps him from attending meetings.

The air grew chilly as the evening passed, and the picnic host kept warm about a huge bonfire.

Guests included Fred L. Rentz, honorary member of the local club, and Mrs. Rentz; James N. Morris, project engineer for the Ellwood City government housing job, and Mrs. Morris, now living in Ellwood; former District Governor, and Mrs. Ezra D. Marvin; and Miss Mary Hamilton, who has been making her home in the south.

BURNED IN HOME

Mrs. Sam Tardio, 12 East South street, suffered minor facial burns, the result of a gas blaze in her home Wednesday evening, shortly before seven o'clock.

Mrs. Tardio was given first aid treatment by city firemen.

According to firemen, gas caught on fire while a stove was being repaired.

No property damage was reported.

According to communication received here by the Eakin family, 405 Connor avenue, the death of Delbert Monroe Eakin, who died at sea on Monday, August 12, was caused by accidental poisoning.

THESE LOGGERS MUST BE REALLY TOUGH FELLOWS!

He's up

He's on the way down!

He's down

It is a common belief that lumbermen are pretty tough individuals, but it took Don Dixon, a logger, to prove it—the hard way—at the Loggers' Carnival at Seaside, Ore. Feeling a trifle kitchy, Dixon climbed hand over hand up a 65-foot-high guy wire. There he hung by his legs for a few minutes, but suddenly he dropped, horrifying spectators. However, an hour and a half later Dixon walked out of the hospital with just a couple of scratches as souvenirs, but the automobile on which he landed still bears a large dent on its top. Tough fellow, eh?

To prevent bookkeeping difficulties, officials finally persuaded him to accept the money, which he insisted on turning over immediately to the United Service Organization campaign.

Draft Extension Affects 69,827 Of State Draftees

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Aug. 14—The pending U. S. draft bill to prolong Selective Service training 18 months will affect 69,827 Pennsylvanians, military authorities estimated today.

It was explained, however, that not all these men would be retained in service since draftees more than 28 years old will be released as rapidly as possible. Other selectees, who prove that their retention in the armed forces would work an "undue hardship" on their families, also will be discharged.

The Pennsylvania National Guard, totaling 16,018 men, will remain in active service. The bulk of the guard is based at Indianopolis, serving with the 28th Division. However, isolated units, such as the 166th Field Artillery, the 103rd Cavalry, and the 105th Anti-Tank Regiment, are serving with separate units.

At the end of July 53,899 Pennsylvanians had been drafted or admitted to the armed forces as one-year volunteers. A small proportion of this total comprises men over 28 years.

Mrs. Finamore, nee Victoria Skanesky, may be removed to her home by ambulance during the latter part of the week.

Mr. Finamore received treatment following the mishap and returned here.

A call for the bids was let more than a week ago and the architect has set August 18 as the deadline for their return.

Members of the congregation hope that the work may be started in time to have the outdoor construction completed before cold weather sets in.

In Action Today

(International News Service)

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa., Aug. 14.—The big 155mm. Howitzers of the 176th Field Artillery, Pittsburgh, sounded over the Indiantown Gap training base today as the regular nine days of intensive service practice.

The Western Pennsylvania outfit rolled into Indiantown last night from Fort Meade, Md., and established camp near the firing range. The outfit is commanded by Lieut. Col. John Nash.

Meanwhile, motor elements of the 28th secured some pre-manuever training when they were routed from bed before sunrise and ordered on a practice march in preparation for the intensive Virginia maneuvers beginning August 23.

The troops were checked closely by inspection teams who observed the manner in which equipment was packed and stored in trucks. The soldiers were divided into three separate units.

Division officers were instructed to pay particular attention to the troops' efficiency and speed in loading trucks. During practice marches, soldiers were halted and ordered to unload and reload again. The units covered 10 miles in the maneuvers.

MILLERS' GIANT WILL GO TO GIANTS

MINNEAPOLIS.—In acquiring Herb Barna, the New York Giants really got a giant.

The Minneapolis slugger is six feet two inches tall and weighs 220 pounds. Despite his height and weight, Barna is surprisingly fast. In addition to leading the American Association in hitting, Barna is the top base stealer in the loop.

WHAT A BARGAIN!

BROOKLYN.—The greatest piece of David Harbun was performed by the Brooklyn Dodgers who nabbed Pete Reiser for $100. The sensational outfielder, who stands a better than 50-50 chance of grabbing the rookie of the year Oscar, is currently spanking the horsehide at a .342 gain and fielding superbly.

Dodgers Gain In Flag Fight

Defeat Phils In Night Battle As Cincinnati Upsets Cardinals

By LAWTON CARVER

(International News Service Editor) NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—Notorious for tight pennant races, the National league this season is about ready to out-do itself and leave the fans in a state of apoplexy.

A good tough, slam-bang battle for the flag is welcomed by all, but the Brooklyn constituents can't stand much more of this after all these years of waiting. No sooner do they sit back confident that the Dodgers have everything well in hand, when the Cardinals come along to rearrange it all. Then the Dodgers bounce back again.

The Cards were 1 1/2 games in front as of yesterday, whereupon they lost and the Dodgers won and the latter now are just one-half game behind again.

Reds Trim Cards

The Dodgers did some catching up last night. With Curt Davis doing the flinging, and with Dolph Camilli hitting a homer with two on, they downed the Philadelphia Phillies, 7 to 2, while the Cardinals were tripping over the Cincinnati Reds, 3 to 2. Bucky Walters hurled the Cincinnati victory against Mort Cooper. Walters scored his 14th win against 10 defeats.

With that the National league race tightened up again. Just when everybody had begun the Cardinals under way to a blitz. Both they and the Dodgers are idle today.

In another National league game last night, Chicago beat Pittsburgh 6 to 4 to nudge the Pirates a little farther out of the race, while in an afternoon double-header the New York Giants beat the Boston Braves, 7 to 6, then lost, 3 to 1.

Yankees Get Split

In the American league, the New York Yankees moved another notch ahead of the Cleveland Indians with an even split against the Senators. The latter won the opener of a double-header, 5 to 3, and the Yankees won the nightcap, 3 to 1, while the Indians were being trounced by the hapless St. Louis Browns, 9 to 3.

The Detroit Tigers beat the Chicago White Sox, 4 to 1, and in a night game the Boston Red Sox shut out the Philadelphia Athletics, 4 to 0 on Charlie Wagner's eight-hit hurling.

Three Games In League Tonight

Moose And Elder Game Postponed, West Pittsburgh Playing Indies

Only three games will be played in the City Baseball League tonight owing to the postponing of the Elder-Moose game at Marshall field on respect to John Kolik, whose mother has passed away at her home in Cheverton.

The game between the Moose and Elders will be played next Monday night at Marshall field. It was announced today by Manager Joe O'Leary.

West Pittsburgh At Indies

The West Pittsburgh "Gas House" gang will be down on the Cedar street field opposing the Lawrence Indies. Manager Danny DeGenova will have either Braky or Powell on the rubber opposed to either Majocha or Joe Wilk, it was understood.

The West Side A. C. goes to Clifton Flats to play the Slovaks and the Croton team journeys to the Sampson street field to play the Ryantown team.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Farrell fans got a peek at a puncher, Frankie Moran, last night and he left the ring with cheers ringing in his ears. The southpaw from this city flattened Billy Shelton of Pittsburgh in 27 seconds. It was a short right to the jaw that knocked out the Pittsburgh boy. Shelton is regarded as one of Pittsburgh's best amateur junior lightweights and was favored to win last night. Moran will be one of the 16 to toss punches in the Arena, August 26, when the Jefferson Athletic club stages a show.

Lawrence County Baseball League draftsmen have revamped the second half schedule. Friday at 5:45 p. m. Ellwood City will play at Hillsville and Wampum will journey to Bessemer. On Monday, Bessemer will trot to Hillsville and Wampum will tackle Ellwood City.

Johnny Colan, New York, knocked out rugged Steve Mamakos of Washington in 41 seconds of the seventh round last night in the Chicago outdoor stadium, and Pete Lello, Gary lightweight, decisively "Boom Boom" Manchin, Youngstown.

Yesterday Grand circuit winners: Stallion stake, mile event, Nibble Hanover; 2:04 trot, Fast Train; 2:13 pace, Betty Graton; Illinois Review futurity trot, Colby Hanover; and Illinois Review futurity pace, Court Jester. Winners at Jefferson county, O.: 2:10 pace, Royal Scott, and two-year-old trot, Little Evie.

WASP MANAGES TO STOP BALL GAME

(International News Service) CENTER, Tex., Aug. 14.—V. A. Naylor, one of the spectators at a softball game in Center, went "coulting" for a lost ball and found something he wasn't looking for—a nest of wasps.

The wasps discovered him first, however, and the resultant commotion made the other spectators, the players and umpires forget about the game. Naylor vows today that from now on he'll tssay in the stands and let someone else look for the lost balls.

Visiting Players Use Brooklyn Hotels

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The civic-minded Brooklynites, who sponsored the "Boost Brooklyn Campaign," today felt a measure of success.

The St. Louis Cardinals, the Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies all use Brooklyn hotelries now when they visit Ebbets field. Previously they were quartered in New York hotels.

Flats-Pulaski Share Top Post In C.-C. League

Elders Setback By Croton
5-3; Flats Mauls Union
Civics, 8-4

Clifton Flats and Pulaski hopped into the City-County Independent Baseball League first place slot Wednesday night.

While Croton was downing the Elder A. A., 5-3, the hard clouting Flats nine trounced the Union Civics, 8-4, and Pulaski took a forfeit at the expense of the cellar dwelling Shamrocks, thus bringing about an unexpected change in the standing.

After holding first place for the past couple of weeks, the Elder A. A. met with a costly setback. Dom Morgan held the ex-leader to five hits while his mates collected mound chores for the Elders. Morgan, P. Germani and J. Memo posted a pair of hits apiece for the winners.

Score by innings: R H E
Croton ..... 310 10—5 9 2
Elders ..... 020 01—3 5 2
Batteries—Croton, Dom Morgan and Delorenzo; Elders, Nickum Bechtel and Morella.

FLATS 8, CIVICS 4
Spearheaded by the noisy bats of Braatz and Plumbo, Clifton Flats moved to the top of the circuit along with Pulaski, by pounding out an 8-4 triumph over the Union Civics on Scotland Lane field.

The Civics held the upper hand for three frames. The Flats pecked away at the deficit, finally dacking the count when N. Lucas rapped a one bagger.

In a big fifth, Braatz climaxed activities by lacing a triple while the cushion jammed. The Flats caught the fray with a four run onslaught. Smiley passed out five scattered blows while Louis was more liberal yielding nine hits.

Clifton Flats and Pulaski each has won eight and dropped two.

Flats ..... 021 14—8 9 1
Civics ..... 211 00—4 5 1

DEWEYS WIN, 5-1

"Ace" Adamst turned in a three-hit gem as the Dewey A. C. coasted to a 5-1 triumph over the Bush A. C. Gentle and "Ragsy" Gennock contributed the stick work for the winning nine.

Moose Herd Is Thundering On In Golf League

Defeat Menacing Saegertowns
Last Evening To Clinch
First Place Grip

New Castle Moose herd continues to thunder on in the Sylvan Heights Golf League, increasing their hold on first place last evening by defeating the strong Saegertown team, 4½ to 1½, and sending the Saegertowns down into third place, a point and a half behind Unions, who have been shoving a fine hurt in the second half race.

Marty Segedi, prepping himself for the city championship tournament, which starts next week, showed the way last night with a snappy par round of 36. Ed. Kardish, Chinky Dutkin, and Izzy Solomon, were one over par with 37's; and Louis Maki, 12-man Kennedy, Timmy Lombardo, Angelo Cimini, Burkowski, and Bruce Headland snapped in with 38's; while Steve Yeager, A. Kardish, H. Mielotto, George Hahn, Ted Lach, and Frank Pezzi had 39's.

Duca D'Abruzzi players, strengthened by a big chicken dinner last Sunday, went to town last night and took five points from Universal Sanitary A. A. while Ellwood City Moose posed out their brethren from Ellwood City, the Shelby Social 3½ to 2½. Shenango Pottery defeated A. and J., 4-2; while Unions won from Workmen's Social of Ellwood City, 3½ to 2½.

Heavy hitting was done by Smith, Pazzone, and "Toy" Laitenen, for the "Fans" with Compello and Razzano best for the Columbus club. The Fannins have two games to play yet to finish up the 1941 season—a postponed game with the Johnsons and a tie playoff with the Ellport Tigers.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Sports knickknacks from hither and thither.

With August rapidly approaching the exit gate, New Castle's contribution to the collegiate football world is starting to lead traveling bags for the perennial junket to various autumn training ballwicks. Once on the prepping grounds, the athletes start whipping themselves into condition for another nerve-tugging pig pelt panorama.

Paul Small, Socrates Roussos and "Blackie" Nocera will flaunt West Virginia Wesleyan's colors. "Lindy" Lauro, one of the better fullbacks produced at Ne-Ca-Hi, reportedly is headed for the U. of Tennessee campus. Al Buco, who may develop into All-American timber before snaring his sheepskin, will prep at a southern school. In 42, according to present plans, the towering end will matriculate at Tennessee.

Midshipman William "Bill" Chip will soon start girding for Navy's quarterback post. Despite a shoulder injury, which "Bill" said bothered him a time the last time we saw him, handsome "Bill" figures to be barking signals again. Richard "Dick" Deament, Bessemer's grid ace, will soon head for College Station, home of the Texas A. & M. "Cadets."

Dykes Signs For Three More Years With White Sox

CHICAGO, Aug. 14.—Though many umpires around the American League may feel Jimmy Dykes can't be satisfied, Jim y himself made plans today that in one respect at least he is completely satisfied—in his job as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

When Dykes put his signature to a contract yesterday that renewed his affiliation with the Sox for another three years, he also put an end to persistent reports that he was considering leaving the confines of Comiskey Park for richer pastures.

But that talk of his accepting a job elsewhere, Dandy Jimmy revealed today, didn't take into consideration the pleasant set-up he has in Chicago.

"It's on the level," he said, "that I'd rather be here for less money than somewhere else for more. I'd rather work for the Comiskey's, in the atmosphere of Comiskey Park and of the White Sox fans, than any place in the world. I like it here, and I'm not kidding. I've got a pretty free rein in the management of the club, and somewhere else it might be different."

Even being satisfied, however, seems to pay dividends in Dykes' case. Although terms of his new contract were not made known, it was reported he had been given a boost of about $2500—and that would raise his annual pay to somewhere near $27,500 or $30,000.

JANE CAROL WINNER

Balbo Siskiyon won the two-year-old pace. Ruth Spencer took the two-year-old trot. Pat W. gambled first in the 2:12 pace and Jane Carol won the run-off in the 2:12 trot while Punchinello took another event at Springfield, Ill., Monday.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Rather chilly . . . makes sleeping a pleasure but a lot of folks would like a little more of good old summer . . . seasons must be changing . . . there that gives the star gazer a chance to make some comment.

And comments are one thing that are free to each and every American citizen. When they take freedom of the press and freedom of speech away . . . they will have taken our liberty. That is why so many people are talking, they have freedom of speech . . . and their talk right now concerns the 116,000 dollars the county received from tax refunds for the first six months of the year. This money is to be used on the building of roads and bridges in the county of Lawrence . . . a great deal of this tax refund was paid by the citizens of New Castle . . . therefore we say . . . why doesn't the county fix some of the roads and bridges in the city? There are a lot of folks who never go out in the county to ride around . . . therefore never benefit by the tax they pay . . . this is something that we can all talk about both city and county residents.

Tomorrow all the buying public of New Castle will be downtown . . . Dollar Day it is and bargains are on hand in every one of the 48 stores cooperating in this great event . . . now is the time to do your buying . . . stock in good and prices are still right . . . see you tomorrow.

If you plan on going fishing into Canada and if you were not born in the United States . . . be sure to take along your citizenship papers . . . that is the only thing that will let you pass the United States customs as you come back to the States . . . the way they say the fishing is better up that way . . . suppose there will be a lot of lads try the sport again before the season ends.

Don't let some bully tell you how to vote . . . you are sole controller of that and don't let anyone tell you differently . . . Some poor sports, who have a little control over some people keeping or losing their jobs, try to tell them how to vote . . . we hope this does not occur in Lawrence County this year.

Don't forget the classified ads . . . they are great little helpers at all seasons of the year. Read them often and they will tell you secrets.
